

Reports Indicate Armistice Likely Within Three Days

Preparations For Signing Near Finish

Munsan, Korea, Friday (AP)—The long-awaited Korean armistice appeared imminent today—possibly within three days on the basis of persistent reports bolstered by a Red broadcast intimating that the final document was ready.

The reports of a quick signing date lacked official confirmation from either side, but the Pyongyang North Korean radio said:

"It appears that preparations for a truce signing at Panmunjom have been virtually completed."

The broadcast went on to cite evidence to indicate that all—or nearly all—the preliminaries had been taken care of. However, it coupled this with an aside warning against possible further South Korean opposition.

Allied sources were more chary. Authoritative quarters in the Allied truce camp at Munsan said one or two minor points remained to be settled and one or two more meetings of staff officers at the Panmunjom conference site might be required before a signing date could be fixed.

These Allied sources conceded, however, that the few remaining matters could be quickly decided. There was strong unconfirmed speculation that a tentative signing date already had been mentioned in the secret Panmunjom sessions Thursday.

The special staff officers group was called into meeting at 11 a.m. today (10 p.m., EDT, Thursday). This was the group which had been reported working on arrangements for exchanging prisoners of war.

The North Korean radio, in a broadcast late last night, said that staff officers apparently had completed drawing the buffer zone to separate the rival armies and also apparently had completed translating the armistice text into English, Chinese and Korean.

The broadcast based this on news that staff officers with maps were seen to be signing something at Panmunjom Thursday and that official translators had not met for two days.

In a cherry tone, the Red announcer went on to note that officers yesterday appeared to have taken up the prisoner-exchange questions "and other final discussions" and had not scheduled a meeting today—indicating they might be through.

He also noted that the armistice signing hall was almost completed. Communist laborers worked on its throughout Thursday night under lights furnished by the Americans.

Legislature Revises Child Adoption Law

Harrisburg, Pa.—The General Assembly passed finally last night legislation revising child adoption procedures in Pennsylvania.

The bill was sent to Gov. John S. Fine after the Senate approved minor amendments inserted by the House.

It would give the State Welfare Department authority to set up minimum standards for child adoption agencies. The measure also defines, for the first time, abandonment in child adoption cases.

Two other bills, part of the governor's child welfare package, remained stalled in the House. They would permit counties to set up a child welfare program. The House Appropriations Committee refused to approve a two million dollar appropriation for the purpose.

Rep. William A. Bolton (R-Montgomery) conceded that the two child welfare bills were dead for the present session following opposition from the Roman Catholic Church.

Heat Wave Ends As Rain Falls Across State

By The Associated Press
An eight-day heat wave in Pennsylvania was ended yesterday by a rain storm which brought varying amounts of rain to the state with the southeastern portion getting the lion's share.

Parts of Philadelphia were swept with a deluge which measured 2.26 inches in 12 hours and flooded streets and basements in the northeast section of the city.

The Weather Bureau forecast fair weather for Pennsylvania today with temperatures in the low 80's and humidity down.

Shaving Cream Lathers Cars

East Lansing, Mich., (AP)—Campus police at Michigan State College were in a lather of indignation yesterday as they sought youngsters who sprayed about a dozen cars with pressurized shaving cream over 24 cars and two buses parked on the campus.

The damage to upholstery and the finish of the cars was estimated to be about $1,000.

Color Television Fight Ends As Columbia Accepts Committee's Compatible System

New York, (AP)—The long fight over color television was formally ended yesterday as the Columbia Broadcasting System said it would go along with the proposed new compatible system.

CBS said it would start sending out some color programs to affiliated stations on an experimental basis Sept. 15 under standards proposed to the Federal Communications Commission by an industry-wide group known as the National Television System Committee. Regular color telecasts for the public must await FCC action on the new system.

In effect CBS joined hands with its arch rival in color TV, Radio Corporation of America, which petitioned the FCC a month ago to approve the compatible standards developed by the NTSC. The committee filed its own petition yesterday. With this system, color telecasts can be received in black and white on present type sets, as well as in color on color sets.

The move wrote the finish for CBS' own incompatible color system. This was adopted by the FCC in 1950 and was on the air on a limited basis several weeks in late summer 1951 until imposition of a federal ban, since lifted, on manufacture of color sets.

With the CBS system, color telecasts could not be received in any form on present-type sets without major modification.

The FCC has promised early consideration of the proposed new color TV method, but has set no date for hearings or for formal action that would be necessary before regular color telecasts for the public could begin.

The National Broadcasting Co., an RCA subsidiary, has been conducting experimental telecasts under the new system, as have a number of individual stations.

Most set manufacturers have either pilot models or complete production plans for color sets, but the first such sets are not expected to appear on even a limited basis until the fall of 1954 and then at prices several times those of present sets.

Three Men Quizzed In Fatal Blast

Scranton, Pa.—State and Lackawanna County police yesterday continued intensive questioning of three men in connection with the early morning explosion which ripped a suburban Dunmore home early Wednesday, causing the death of a 17-year-old Scranton boy.

Dist. Atty. Carlton M. O'Malley said some 20 other law enforcement officers also are looking for a fourth man whom O'Malley believes may be involved in the purported arson case.

The youth, Robert J. Flynn, was a June graduate of St. Ann's High School in Scranton. He died Wednesday night in the Scranton State Hospital of burns and other injuries suffered when an explosion let go in the vacant home owned by Mrs. Mary Toti of Lodi, N. J.

He was found hours later lying along Route 611 about two miles from the house with most of his clothes burned off.

Police said they established Flynn had been roller skating at a Scranton rink early Tuesday night and later was seen in the company of one of the men under questioning. O'Malley said the man had a prison record for armed robbery.

The district attorney declined to identify the men under questioning until a charge is placed against them, or until they are released. Investigators believe that a bottle of kerosene exploded, blowing out windows and blinds with the force of shrapnel. The empty house had all utility services still connected and police theorize that when the alleged arsonist flicked a switch to turn on an electric hot plate, a spark ignited fumes from kerosene-soaked rugs and touched off the explosion.

Union Demands 35-Hour Week

New York, (AP)—An official of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union said yesterday the union will insist on a 35-hour work week in Pennsylvania dressmaking shops beginning next year.

David Gindoff, vice president of the ILGWU, contended that objections by the Pennsylvania Dress Manufacturers Association to the shortened week are "not valid."

The shops presented by the association operate on a 40-hour week under a contract which expires Dec. 31. The shortened week has been opposed by the association, whose representatives met with union officials for explanatory discussions here yesterday.

Bodies Of Last Two Hunters Found Murdered In Canada

Quebec, (AP)—A spokesman for the Quebec Attorney-General's Department said last night two bodies, believed by provincial police to be those of two missing Pennsylvania hunters, were found in the Gaspe woods.

The spokesman said: "It is murder—cold-blooded and planned."

He declared he was not in a position at the moment to say whether an arrest is expected but a statement may be made today by Solicitor-General Antoine Rivard.

The spokesman said that while the two bodies were not positively identified as Richard Lindsey, 17, and Fred Clair, 20, provincial police in Gaspe are convinced "they are those of the two hunters."

Yosko Demands Briefing On Terms Of River Water Pact

Harrisburg, (AP)—Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) yesterday called on the Senate to require Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside to submit to the legislature a report on terms of an agreement made with neighboring states on allocation of the Delaware River water supply.

The General Assembly, Yosko said, should be briefed so that it will be in a position "to determine whether the best interests of the commonwealth have been served" by the reported interstate agreement.

Yosko said the agreement was made with New York and New Jersey on or about June 29 last that terms of the pact never have been made known to Pennsylvania legislature.

A resolution he introduced to require Woodside to submit a report went to the Senate Rules Committee. Only Wednesday, Yosko made an appeal for floor action on a bill to carry out some recommendations of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (Incoed-6).

Chairman C. Arthur Blass (R-Erie), of the Forests and Waters Committee, however, said the majority of members of his committee believed the bill should not be brought up for a vote at this late stage of the 1953 session.

Ike Attacks Aid Slashes

Washington, (AP)—President Eisenhower, declaring the country's safety is directly involved, carried to the Senate yesterday his thus far losing fight against major money slashes in his foreign aid program.

In a letter to Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Eisenhower expressed a conviction that "grave consequences" would follow from a major cut in the $5,138,922,227 he requested for foreign military and economic aid.

The House, ignoring a late-hour plea from the President, voted 288-115 Wednesday night to cut the program by $1,100,000,000, including $414,806,298 in leftover funds from previous appropriations.

The bill now is before the Senate committee, which may or may not restore some of the cuts which Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday were too heavy for America's own security.

Expressing "deep concern" in the matter, Eisenhower wrote Bridges: "This program and these appropriations directly involve the security of our nation. The program is specifically directed toward strengthening the collective security of the free nations—in which the safety of our nation is inescapably involved."

South Koreans Smash Back At Crest Of Hill

Seoul, Friday, (AP)—South Korean infantrymen smashed back to the crest of one Central Front hill position today and were carrying the fight to the Reds on three others in the bloody Kumson sector.

The four hills are among six lost to the Reds yesterday. The Republic of Korea soldiers jumped off at dawn in their four-pronged counterattack and swept back to control of the first hill in 1½ hours.

During the night, the ROKs beat off three Red attacks against their main line positions five miles north-east of Kumhwa. All were accompanied by probing assaults.

On the Western Front, U. S. Seventh Division soldiers early today repulsed Chinese Red attacks against Outposts Dale and West View in the Old Baldy area. Fighting raged on the forward slopes of West View from early nightfall until long after midnight.

Secrecy Hit

Washington, (AP)—House investigators yesterday accused the armed services of trying to hide evidence of waste and mismanagement under a "ridiculous" system of secrecy and red tape.

House Kills Measure To Raise Tariffs

Washington, (AP)—The House, backing the Eisenhower administration last night killed a bill to increase tariff protection for American industries against competition from foreign goods.

A 212-161 roll call vote slapped down a determined drive, led by insurgent House Republicans, against the administration's policy of promoting freer world trade.

In the showdown, after four hours of hot debate, more Democrats than Republicans voted against the trade-restricting bill by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.).

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) voted with the majority to kill the bill.

The proposal would have specifically raised tariffs on foreign lead, zinc and watches, and would have imposed tight ceilings to curb imports of foreign oil.

More generally, it would have tended toward higher tariffs or import quotas in scores of other fields. These could have been invoked upon claims by American producers, workers or farmers that they were being hurt by foreign imports.

The vote came shortly after Republican Leader Halleck (R-Ind.) said a vote for the Simpson bill would be "ridiculous" in view of previous approval of a bill extending the trade-promoting Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act.

Halleck urged House members to "stand by the administration . . . because it is the right and proper thing to do."

But many of the Republicans present voted against the motion killing the bill.

For the motion were 104 Republicans, 137 Democrats and 1 Independent. Against it were 105 Republicans and 56 Democrats.

The motion was that the bill be recommitted, in effect killing it. On an earlier, tentative standing vote to kill the bill, the margin was 175-119.

A move to prevent floor consideration of the bill, however, was beaten 219-183.

Simpson told the House the restrictive steps are urgently needed to restore jobs for "thousands of American workers now unemployed because of a flood of cheaper, competing foreign goods."

Altogether, he insisted, eight million American workers are adversely affected by foreign imports.

Oil Tanker Explodes; 24 Missing

Wilmington, Del., (AP)—An oil tanker exploded and caught fire while unloading high-octane gas on the Delaware River last night, leaving 24 men out of a crew of 41 on the ship, the Pan Georgia, were accounted for. Most of those men were pulled out of the water after jumping overboard.

Flames leaped high into the air and spread to two tug boats nearby.

The tanker was tied up at a marine terminal dock about one mile south of Wilmington on the busy Delaware River. She had nearly completed her unloading of the volatile fuel when the blast occurred. The tug was waiting to move the ship from her mooring.

Power Plant At Falls Proposed

Washington, (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, fighting against proposed private development of electric power at Niagara Falls, said yesterday his state has an "inalienable" right to undertake the 400 million dollar project.

Testifying before the Senate Public Works Committee in support of New York's claim, Dewey said:

"We don't ask any money for this. We don't ask any state money, we don't ask any federal money—all we ask is that you please leave us alone."

Negro Seeks To Swim Channel

New York, (AP)—A postal clerk set out yesterday on a dream he has cherished for nearly 20 years: to be the first American Negro to swim the English Channel.

Willis Banks, 30, sailed on the French liner Liberte with his boss, acting Postmaster Harold Riegelman, waving him voyage form pier, Banks' wife and one of his two daughters also saw him off.

Soviet High Commissioner for Germany Vladimir Semenov has demanded closing of the market.

President Orders Manpower Experts To Reexamine UMT To See If It Is Feasible

Washington, (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday directed his manpower experts to re-examine the question of universal military training to see if it is feasible and desirable.

He said in a statement he was anxious to correct "inequities which have long characterized our military manpower policies."

Under the present system, the President said, the only effective military reserve is made up of men who have already served the nation in the Korean War, World War II, or both.

At the same time there are thousands of fit young men who have not yet assumed any military obligations at all, he pointed out.

Eisenhower noted that in the past he had expressed doubts that there was enough manpower in the country to supply the needs of Selective Service and at the same time allow for an effective program of Universal Military Training.

But he said he had reviewed the manpower problem in the light of the recent reduction in the size of standing forces and was hopeful that a remedy might be found for the inequities.

Meantime, in the wake of a series of conflicting statements about draft prospects, John A. Hannah, assistant defense secretary for manpower, met with reporters today to clarify the situation.

He said that when reasonably stable conditions are achieved in Korea after a truce, monthly draft inductions would drop from the current figure of 23,000 to about 19,000.

But starting next July, Hannah said, even if there is a Korean truce, monthly induction quotas will have to be raised to about 43,000 to produce about 423,000 replacements in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955. The bulk of replacements is running in a 2-year cycle, Hannah said.

He explained his figures were based on the current armed forces total of 3,353,000.

Dems Fail In Effort To Up AF Funds

Washington, (AP)—The Senate last night gave President Eisenhower a major victory in approving his trimmed-down defense budget of 34½ billion dollars and rejecting a Democratic-led move to bolster the Air Force's atomic punching power.

Passage of the big military money bill—a total of five billion less than former President Truman recommended—came after two days of debate.

It went through on a shouted voice vote with Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) protesting he had no chance to present several amendments.

Sen. Payne (R-Maine), presiding, ruled that the Senate had signified its approval before Douglas cried out his protest.

The House passed a similar measure three weeks ago. The bill now goes to a Senate-House conference to iron out differences in the separately passed versions.

Last-ditch efforts of Democrats to restore at least part of the Air Force's funds ran into a stone wall of virtually solid Republican strength despite assertions that Soviet rulers might trigger a new war that would find the United States lagging in air strength.

It was the fourth and final test of the decision by Secretary of Defense Wilson, with Eisenhower's public backing, to lop more than five billion dollars from new funds for the Air Force and lower the immediate goal from 143 to 120 wings. A wing has from 30 to 75 aircraft.

Earlier victories had been scored in the House Appropriations Committee, the House and the Senate purse-string group.

Sens. James H. Duff and Edward Martin, Pennsylvania Republicans, joined 44 other Republicans and nine Democrats as the Senate by a vote of 55-38 rejected an attempt to add 400 million dollars to Air Force funds to buy additional jet bombers.

Immigration Bill Voted

Washington, (AP)—One more barrier against an administration-sponsored special immigration bill was removed yesterday when the House Judiciary Committee approved a measure substantially along the lines President Eisenhower wants.

The bill had been stalled in the House committee for weeks.

Legislation to admit 240,000 special quota immigrants to the United States during the next two years is one of the goals which Eisenhower leaders say must be achieved before Congress adjourns.

As voted out by the House committee 17-12, the bill fixes a special quota of 240,000, as Eisenhower proposed, but provides for a 3-year instead of 2-year time period for their admission.

The measure provides for admission of 60,000 refugees of German origin, 60,000 Italians, 35,000 refugees in the Western zones of Germany and Austria, 25,000 Greeks, 25,000 Dutch, 15,000 refugees in North Atlantic Treaty countries, 8,000 displaced persons, 3,000 Polish soldiers, 3,000 European refugees in China, and 2,000 Portuguese.

In addition, it provides for the admission of 4,000 orphans, including 1,000 Korean orphans. A subcommittee proposal to admit 8,000 Arabs, Chinese and Japanese was knocked out by administration leaders.

Pentagon Told To Improve Ties With Congress

Quantico, Va., (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson advised his Pentagon chiefs last night to improve their relations with Congress, the Atomic Energy Commission and other government agencies.

Wilson said it was necessary that both Congress and the people get a better understanding of the needs of the fighting forces.

The defense secretary, now nearing the end of his first six months in office, during which he has slashed the military budget prepared by the Truman administration, set down his ideas in an address prepared as a keynote for the four-day meeting of more than 100 top defense officials here. Both civilian and military chiefs are attending.

Hickory Valley Farm Opens Modern Store At Swiftwater

By James B. Gaffney

A far cry from the original small store on Foxtown Hill is Dr. David B. Shulman's latest Hickory Valley store on Route 611 at Swiftwater which opened recently.

Built of field stone taken directly from the Effort Mountain property of Dr. Shulman and his brother, M. J. Shulman, the Swiftwater outlet will set the pattern for future stores which Hickory Valley expects to build on a coast-to-coast basis in the future.

The latest Hickory Valley's chain to six, with others located in Barrett Township, Doylestown, Coopersburg, Main Line Philadelphia at Villanova and outside Delaware Water Gap on Route 611.

Recent highway department construction of the Paradise Valley-Cresco highway isolated the Hickory Valley store at the junction of Routes 90 and 171, and so the enterprising physician-owner secured a storeroom at Buck Hill Forks and shifted his operation there.

The new store at Swiftwater contains the latest word in comfort, Dr. Shulman said. It is the biggest "and best" of the fast developing chain. A restaurant-store combination, the Swiftwater building is the "architectural design we're after," Dr. Shulman disclosed.

Started in 1944 in Little Kunkletown, three miles southwest of Stroudsburg, Hickory Valley Farm has gained national recognition for its smoked meat products. Many famous personages in American political, social, educational and theatrical life are listed as regular customers.

The Pennsylvania-Dutch design which appears on all Hickory Valley products carries with it the postmark of the Poconos as deliveries are made daily to the 48 states.

Moving to the fore in new Monroe County business ventures is the Griffin Antique Shop at Canadensis which opened in March.

Operated by Iris D. Higgins, the shop provides a picturesque setting for the display of colored glass lamps, tumblers, goblets, vases and other items, each antique table with its own color setting.

Furniture in cherry, mahogany, rosewood, honey or curly maple, stands out prominently. Each room in the cottage is furnished individually.

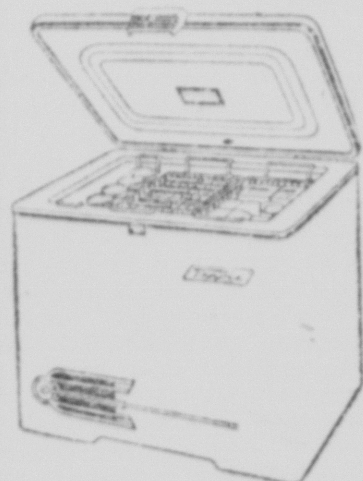

An up-stairs gift shop features specially selected articles, most of which are originals. A Mopet Shop for infants' handmade clothing and toys, also is located here.

On the Griffin Terrace, tea and light lunches are served, lunches by reservation and tea from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Only one variety of the ouzel, or dipper bird, lives in North America, but dozens are found elsewhere in the world.

Not Quite Free

When a housewife gets a "free sample" of soap-powder or toothpaste through the mail, it costs her something after all, because the Government—which her taxes must support—loses money on every such shipment.

The Post Office Department collects an average of 1.47 cents on each third-class package that goes through the mail, but it costs the department 3.12 cents—more than twice that much—to handle it.

That is quite a sum when it is considered that there were more than 11 billion such packages last year.

Other kinds of parcels are carried at a loss, too. That's the main reason why the Post Office Department runs into the red each year. The mountains of "franked" Government mail carried free are another contributing factor.

Congress, which makes the rules, can remedy this and back Postmaster General Summerfield in his efforts to make his department pay its way. There seems to be no good reason why it shouldn't.

Scramble Two For Us

The State Dept. of Agriculture reports with understandable pride, that Pennsylvania's chickens have been outdoing themselves this year.

Our hard-working hens laid 1,771,000,000 eggs in the first five months of this year, as compared with 1,686,000,000 for the same months of 1952.

As we salute these busy little hens we can't help but wonder if 1953 mightn't go down in history as the year in which more eggs were laid in more places than in any other year in the memory of man.

There is, for example, the Pennsylvania Legislature which, like Pennsylvania's hens, laid egg after egg in the first five months of 1953.

And speaking of laying an egg, there is, of course, the State Highway Department which has laid them in batches over the years to produce the Stroudsburgs' traffic jams.

Smearred Windshields

American filling-stations are undoubtedly the best in the world and their free extra services are given so willingly that perhaps a motorist oughtn't to criticize them.

But one of those services is getting to be a problem. That's the windshield cleaning.

It has become quite the fashion to clean the windshield, not with water, but with some kind of chemical concoction. It makes the glass sparkle beautifully, too.

But as soon as the driver encounters a little shower and turns his windshield wiper on, the result is a blur that looks like the screen on a television set that is on the blink.

The chemical and the rain-water combine in a smeary mass that has to be rubbed off with old newspapers, or whatever is handy, and the driver has to get out into the rain to do it.

How about a new non-smearing chemical—or better yet, some old-fashioned water?

Few of us realize it, but there's a law requiring clear windshield vision for all motor vehicles.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

A Senate committee has found that many members of the United Nations have been carrying on a profitable trade with Red China ever since the war began, and that it is not only flourishing today but on the increase. It describes it as "the shocking policy of fighting an enemy on one hand and doing business with him on the other."

Through glittering halls the streamers swirl. To meetings by the score. On fighting communism, while They help it win the war! Their noble words ring through the day. But while their soldiers die. There's trading with the enemy For profits swift and high.

II. Their votes sent young men into war. Their speeches they were long. But ships of theirs plow through the seas. To keep the Communies strong; The C.I.'s die on bloody hills. To keep the faith the while. The enemy is strengthened by A hunt for profits vile.

III. What kind of men send lads to die. Upon some barren peak. While they go over books and ask. "What did we make this week?" Oh, point them out, and one by one. For all the world to see. The traders with the killers of The boys who keep us free!

IV. There's slaughter on Korean slopes. Yet U.N. members know It's "Business, boys, as usual." With ethics extra low; Oh, speakers garrulous and shrill. Pause—just to catch your breath. And ask "Is this a temple or A Bargain House of Death?"

Apropos of the above, the Senate Committee declares that more than $2 billion worth of strategic stuff has been sold to the Chinese Reds by our side since the war began, and that the trading is higher today than ever, and on the increase! . . . Despite the shock over the committee's report, the facts have been available for years to anybody who bothered to look into the published trade reports of our allies . . . This is the cold hard fact. While Uncle Sam, bearing the brunt of the fighting, has a tight ban on every item that could help the enemy kill his sons, our allies have refused to go along with us in holding that rubber, oil, steel, steel, various other metals and all antibiotics are of tremendous aid to the foe. . . . Yet every barrel of oil, every ton of rubber withheld from the Reds lowers their fighting power. . . . And the nations which pour in pennies and other antibiotics simply help get sick and wounded killers of our men back into action again. How crazy can we get? . . . Yeah, but the delegates to U.N. don't do the trading and there are limits to what they can do, but an all-out determination to stop the double cross would be a big help in stopping it. . . . New York cry of the subway: "Get change for a token!" . . . We reserve opinion on the success of the use of tokens in the subway until we complete our observations of women who try to pick up coins at subway booths with their gloves on. . . . Congress performs so poorly without Senator Taft that it looks sicker than the Senator. . . . Those photos of Maude Adams show that there was a time in the American world of the theater when an actress could have her picture taken without grinning from ear to ear. . . . The Dodgers strike this department as the most colorful baseball team since the days of Babe Ruth and Murderers' Row. . . . There is nothing in all New York quite as wonderful as Mike Todd's Jones Beach show on a moonlight night. . . . Mike is doing more for Italy than Ambassador Luce.

U. S. Sending Heart Doctor To Treat Cardinal Stepinac

Washington

A San Francisco specialist will fly to Yugoslavia to treat Cardinal Stepinac. Marshal Tito has agreed to that. Yugoslav Ambassador Vladimir Popovic is completing arrangements for the emergency medical case.

Cardinal Stepinac is suffering from a serious blood ailment. While no longer in jail, he is still nominally serving the sentence imposed on him by being confined to his boyhood home in the small town of Krasie, Croatia. Recently, the indomitable prelate's condition became critical and friends appealed to high U. S. officials for medical treatment that is not available in Yugoslavia.

Most active among these American authorities are Undersecretary of State W. Bedell Smith and Rep. John McCormack, Mass., Democratic Whip of the House.

Smith discussed sending the San Francisco doctor, a specialist in blood ailments, during a conference with Ambassador Popovic, when he called concerning urgently-needed wheat for Yugoslavia. Smith and Popovic served together as Ambassadors in Moscow after World War II.

"My government will welcome any American doctor sent to treat Cardinal Stepinac," Popovic declared. "I am under instructions to expedite all arrangements and every facility will be extended to assist in every way possible."

McCormack told Smith that information direct from Cardinal Stepinac's bedside is that his survival is dependent on obtaining treatment by the San Francisco specialist.

"The State Department is leaving nothing undone to speed up the doctor's departure," Smith said. "His passport is being cleared without delay and measures are being taken to enable him to bring with him the special medicines and other things he will need."

Foreign Flashes—The Arab League is quietly reviving an old plan to create an all-Arab army. The latest version calls for an army of eight divisions, built around the British-trained and supported Jordan military force. . . . American businessmen are much heartened by the appointment of Oswaldo Aranha as Brazilian Finance Minister. If there is anyone in Brazil who can checkrein the ruinous inflation there it is the brilliant and courageous former Ambassador to Washington. He has the ability and mettle to do the job, and is a sincere friend of the U. S. . . . The 78th diplomatic mission is now installed in Washington. It is the royal legation of the kingdom of Laos, one of the three states of Indo-China. . . . During President Syngman Rhee's conferences with Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, the aged ROK ruler hinted repeatedly he wanted to be invited to the U. S. by the Eisenhower Administration. But the broad invitations fell on deaf ears. Neither President Eisenhower nor Secretary Dulles have any desire to "entertain" the obdurate politician. It was this sense of relationship which so impressed Talleyrand and impelled Napoleon to one side his wife, Josephine, and to marry into the Hapsburgs, which thus made his progeny, if not himself, the legitimate ruler of France. He married into regal respectability. The same motive dominated the thinking of the Holy Alliance after the Conference of Vienna in 1815.

Even in China, where the people were accustomed to changes in dynasties, several of them of non-Chinese origin, legitimacy played so great a role that Sun Yat-sen changed the capital from Peking to Nanking because the North refused to acknowledge him. After his death, he was decried by public opinion. Thereupon, Chiang Kai-shek established himself as Sun Yat-sen's heir and ruled the country with that sanction. Even Mao Tse-tung finds it advantageous to use Miao Sun Yat-sen in his government because it gives his regime an aura of legitimacy.

When Kerensky took over, his was called the Provisional Government and an effort was made to find some continuing basis in traditional Russian life and government. The Constituent Assembly was called for the purpose of giving Democratic authority to the change of regime. I was present at this meeting in 1917 when the Bolsheviks killed the Constituent Assembly. In terms of political organization, that was the effective climax of the Russian Revolution.

Lenin and Trotsky founded the Soviet State as a revolutionary act, based upon the will of a minority, accompanied by a devastating terror. Civil war and foreign intervention provided a justification for the terror, as they had for the French Revolutionists who eventually succumbed to Napoleon.

The Lenin regime was alien, based upon the concepts of a German philosopher, Karl Marx. However, as the years passed, the pull of tradition was so great that autocracy rather than dictatorship of the proletariat reasserted itself. Autocracy is an indigenous Russian concept of government. Ivan the Terrible is a Russian prototype of ruler and he became Stalin's hero.

Thus Stalin departed from the Marxist-Leninist ideas of government and restored the normal Russian method, autocracy. But Stalin needed legitimacy which Lenin never tried to establish. Stalin created a god, Lenin. Everything he did was in the name of Lenin. Stalin killed Trotsky and most of the old Bolsheviks, purging millions of persons, Government, like individuals, seek legitimacy. If it is possible, even governments which are the products of revolution desire a continuing relationship with the past, once the revolution and the attendant reign of terror are over. Respectability requires not only a due regard for national traditions but a nexus with the historic past of the nation.

Company G Slated For Recognition

Final steps toward federal recognition of Company G, Monroe County's National Guard organization, will be taken Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the East Stroudsburg Armory.

According to Capt. W. C. G. Peterson, commanding officer of Company G, administrative officers from Second Battalion headquarters in Scranton will be on hand Tuesday night to fill out personnel forms and aid in orientation of the newly-reactivated infantry outfit.

Company G will not be officially recognized by the Federal Government until after all personnel forms have been completed, Peterson said.

The commanding officer expects, however, that the company will be ready to stand official inspection from Federal officials not later than Thursday, July 30.

The Tuesday night meeting takes the place of regularly-scheduled Monday night meeting at the Armory.

Although Company G will be the last company in the Second Battalion to reach reactivation, Peterson said, it still may reach federal approval in time to make the battalion the first large-scale unit to be federally-recognized in the State of Pennsylvania.

Most of the Tuesday night meeting will be turned over to routine registration, preliminary inspection by battalion officials and "administrative shakedown", Capt. Peterson said.

Agrees To Serve

Washington, (AP)—Herbert Hoover said yesterday he has agreed "against my better judgment" to serve on a new commission which will study government reorganization.

lined up for entry into the company, Peterson feels Company G is well on its way toward federal approval.

When, and if, the federal inspector visits the Armory next week, "I see no reason why we shouldn't be recognized," Capt. Peterson said last night.

Vet Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Cpl. Kenneth K. White, 19, of Leighton, crashed into a telephone pole on Route 206, four miles north of Brodheadsville, at 12:20 yesterday morning and was treated for injuries at the Palmerton Hospital, Palmerton.

According to the State police at Brodheadsville, White, who was alone in the car at the time, was heading toward Leighton when a truck, attempting to pass another large truck, headed for his car.

To avoid a head-on collision, police said, White pulled to the side of the road and ran into a telephone pole, completely breaking it in half.

White was taken by ambulance to the hospital where he was treated for bruises of the leg and left shoulder.

Estimated damages to the car amounted to $50.

White recently returned from Korea where he received the Purple Heart. He is stationed at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

Mother Nighthawk Rearrs Family On Roof Of High School For 17th Straight Year

The roof of Stroudsburg High School apparently offers "something for the birds."

For the past 17 years or so the roof has attracted a mother nighthawk or "bullbat" during the summertime.

Mrs. Nighthawk appears on the scene just long enough to lay a couple of eggs on the grey slate-roof, sit on her nest until they're hatched.

A small bird of the goatsucker family, the nighthawk is marble-colored in varying greys, whites and dull yellows. When the bird lights on the schoolhouse roof, it's a near-perfect case of natural camouflage.

Stroudsburg Superintendent Earl F. Groner and other school employees have watched the bird come and go for years.

This year proved no exception, according to Groner. This month the mother nighthawk appeared again, almost on schedule.

She set up housekeeping in the west corner of the roof first. Then—when roofing workers and masons put in an appearance to make repairs on the building—the bird moved her newly-hatched young to the east corner.

Two days later when the roofers moved in that direction, the mother bird moved again.

When a human being approached the spot in which the pre-flight youngsters were taking their daily snooze, the mother bird went into one of the greatest tear-jerking dramatic scenes this side of "East Lynne," Groner relates. Moving constantly away from the nest, the mother nighthawk would drop one wing, creating the illusion of being crippled. Most persons, of course, become curious, follow the mother—and the kids are "out of danger."

Groner describes the nighthawks as "larger than robins, smaller than pigeons, with a extra-wide wingspread."

The nighthawks came in for their fair share of publicity a few years back, Groner says, when a naturalist visited Stroudsburg, found the nest on the roof, then came back a year later to take pictures of the birds.

Union Chief Protests To Rival Group

David Dubinsky, outspoken chief of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, yesterday demanded that another union explain the connection between blouse making and distilling.

The protest came as an outgrowth of the present work stoppage in sub-contracting garment firms.

ILGWU and Dubinsky had previously noted that a new local of Distillery, Rectifying and Wine Workers Union (AFL) Local 140, New York had organized about 200 blouse workers in a Brooklyn plant.

It was this union (DRWWU) which sent pickets to Nazareth to appear in front of a blouse firm there. Picket lines resulted in the closing of the factory.

Officials of the distiller's union last night told Dubinsky that, unless the new Brooklyn union "gets out of the garment field" its charter will be cancelled.

Pickets at the Nazareth plant told reporters they were there because the Nazareth firm was processing material from the struck Brooklyn factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leo Fairfield

Mrs. Stacky, T. L. Fairfield Are Married

Announcement has been made of the marriage on Monday evening, July 20, of Mrs. Emma Beatrice Stacky, of RD 3, Stroudsburg, and Thomas Leo Fairfield, North Fifth Street. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Norman Levergood in the presence of relatives and friends at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Seldon Lasher, East Stroudsburg, RD 2.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of blue-gray rayon and cotton, fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt, and wore a pillbox hat of white pique with veil, and a corsage of pink roses and white lilies. Her train of honor, Mrs. Morris Edinger, of Stokes Mill, was dressed in street-length dress of gray cotton with white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mr. Edinger was Mr. Fairfield's best man.

A buffet supper followed the ceremony. Among those in attendance were: Mrs. Seldon Lasher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lasher, son Charles Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stettler, Eugene Cramer, all relatives of the bride, and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Stacky; Miss Cora Blasing, Mrs. Helen Levy, Mrs. Eord Predmore, Mrs. George Sturdevant, Miss Pauline Marsh, Mrs. William Walter, Miss Ann Weiss, and Arthur A. Widmer, co-workers of the bride at A. B. Wyckoff; Miss Barbara Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Getz, Frederick Heller, Mrs. Pearl Heckman, Mrs. Jennie Chambers, and the Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairfield are making their home on Chipperfield Drive. The bridegroom is a sheet metal and roofing contractor, and Mrs. Fairfield is assistant cashier in the Stroudsburg department store.

To give French Toast a new twist, make a sandwich of bread and jelly and cranberry sauce, dip the sandwich in batter, and brown in butter or margarine in a skillet. Serve with Canadian bacon for lunch.

How often furniture should be waxed depends on the amount of handling it gets. Table tops will naturally need more waxing than chests or other similar pieces of furniture.

Wesley Chapel Picnic Set For Saturday, July 25

Supper hour will be 5:30, with each family providing its own food and table service. Children of the congregation will receive treat tickets at the playground, where swimming privileges are available.

Recreation will be in charge of Mrs. Clyde White, Mrs. James N. Canfield, Jr., Mrs. Steward Walters and Mrs. Thel Feller. The arrangement committee includes John Teala, Steward Walters, Stanley Heller.

Burgermeister von Stroudsburg In German Paper

"Der Burgermeister von Stroudsburg," Hal Harris is pictured in "Die Stimme Amerikas," a small booklet published by the Voice of America in Germany. The picture is one which appeared in the Daily Record when the historic Bible from Stroudsburg, Germany, was presented to this community.

The Bible was presented "als Eine Geste der Freundschaft und des Dankes" for the Christmas Eve broadcast from the homes, churches and people of Stroudsburg which the Voice of America broadcast to Germany.

The story of the broadcast and of the presentation ceremony in German, of course, is carried with the picture on the back page of the little magazine under the title "Eine Bibel für Stroudsburg". Friends in Germany, reading it, sent it to Mrs. Elia Hochne of Marshall's Creek.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

"Oh, a rainy day. How nice," that's what most people must have said to themselves when they woke yesterday morning. And then they must have added: "It's a good day to go to town and get that shopping done."

Anyway they all converged on Main Street and such a traffic jam we didn't have even on the Fourth of July. With the rain coming down so hard, you had to keep the car windows closed; and with the windows closed they got steamed up, and you had to wipe little holes to see through.

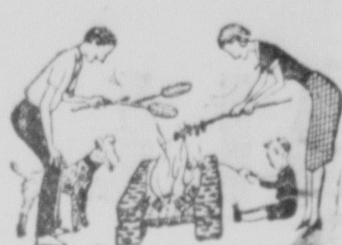

If you were unfortunate enough to be caught in an eddy or corner-turning, you had the duphlo to breath it up again because all you could see when you looked out was other drivers giving you disgusted looks.

Not disgusted but delighted were what the women coming in for the Glen Brook luncheon yesterday noon put on. Each one had privately been thinking that probably the crowd would be pretty small so it was a surprise to see the biggest crowd in a month.

Must be the herd instinct, or something. Comes a rainy morning and everybody heads for the nearest cluster of people. Well, after you'd found a parking lot and launched a raft to get across the gutters, it was sort of cozy in the stores, everybody squishing around with wet feet.

And certainly the luncheon was more leisurely and conversational with nobody rushing to play the back nine.

I don't think most of us would have been sorry to have it stay cloudy all day. Not so the would-be doll purchasers for whom the sunshine came too late. Two days they've been raring to go, and today maybe they'll make it.

Candidates Meet Teenage Republicans

Members of the Teen-Age Republican Club last night had a chance to meet with the Republican candidates for office in the coming election, and to learn of the duties of their office at a meeting held at Wyckoff's Recreation Rooms.

District Attorney Elmer Christine introduced the candidates and told of the work the office entailed. Frank Weller, candidate for county treasurer; Joseph Price and D. W. Frankendorf, candidates for associate judge; and Samuel Gearhart, candidate for chief burgess of Stroudsburg, were introduced.

Other candidates joined the group later. At the business meeting, conducted by John C. Eaton, the following new members were welcomed: Louise LaBarre, Sharon Slatter, Maureen Munch, Lorraine Belge, Marilyn Scott, S. Fellman, Howard Powell, Lyle Dixon and Richard Van Why.

Dick Van Why sang several solos, and refreshments of hot dog rolls, punch and cakes were served. The party had been planned for the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shotwell, Effort, but had been changed during the morning storm to the recreation room.

The next meeting will be purely social and will be held at the Nauman summer home at White Heron Lake.

Warner Reunion Sat.

The Warner Family Reunion will be held as a basket picnic at Weir Lake, Gilbert, on Saturday, July 25. Members of the family are invited to bring their friends and spend the day.

Almost any morning between 9 and 9:30, weird noises roar forth from the amplifying system in our store, and visitors who have managed to slip in via the Tea Room entrance along with the staff, open their eyes wide and debate the wisdom of a hasty retreat.

The store, usually quiet at this hour, while salesmen straighten their stock and saleswomen busy themselves with wiping glass cases or rearranging displays, becomes strangely alive with sounds that turn back the pages of Monroe County history more than a century. Boom . . . boom . . . comes the hollow, fearsome rhythm of the tomtom. A moment later, one's scalp creeps and one's blood runs cold as thin, threadlike shrieks streak over the wires.

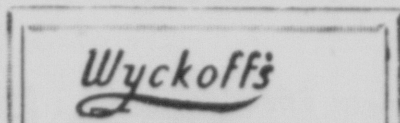

Anyone standing near enough to our switchboard can see at a glance that all this whoop-de-hoo is being created by the gentlemen of our advertising department, who are having one wov of a time. Savage indeed they may sound, but the grins on their faces are far from bloodthirsty . . . and if they give an additional thump to the painted drums now and then, it's only because an opportunity like this comes but once in a lifetime, and boys will be boys.

Out on the floor all dusting and stockwork steps for awhile. The manager pauses near one of the loud speakers and grins broadly as the twisted jargon of our "Indians" remind us about the big contest now in progress among our sales people, and the standing of such worthy rivals as Squaws Sculptum Close, Sweet Toothum, and Make-up Glitter. (It isn't hard to identify the last two as Pauline Marsh of candy and Edna Harmon of jewelry, is it.) In a few minutes it is all over. The ominous voice of the tomtom is silenced . . . the invisible war paint is donned . . . and Wyckoff's is its usual civilized, friendly, courteous self as the big doors swing open for another day.

Under this placid exterior, there's a very definite feeling of rivalry, however, and that feeling has been responsible for slashed prices in our domestic department, special purchases of really fine cotton dresses that have marched out at $3.99 or thereabouts, clearances on lingerie, stationery, men's wear, household items, and shoes, new and better buys in fabrics and bags from Guatemala and Mexico, and almost daily "Jewelry Jam-boree" items.

There isn't a department head who hasn't conjured up some interesting idea for pushing her team ahead . . . and if you watch the Wyckoff ads you'll find many purchases that are just too good to miss. Chalk it up to our contest that Thelma Munk was brought here once again to advise women how to don truly glamorous Helena Rubenstein makeup . . . and it was the contest that inspired Pauline Marsh to procure the lollipop you can own this weekend providing your guess of its weight is accurate.

We're having a wonderful time at Wyckoff's these days . . . and before we smoke the peace pipe and hold the final pow wow our customers will have plenty of "cheap good purchases" — with plenty of beautiful wampum left untouched in their money belts.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Excitement of the District Four Little League playoffs are no more as far as Monroe County and neighboring Northampton County are concerned. The last remaining team from this area, Stroudsburg, went out of action on Wednesday when the Valley All-Stars scored a convincing 10-1 victory. A crowd of 300 people braved the threat of rain to witness the two teams in action on Stroudsburg's home field.

The Valley club presented a well rounded club, one that features a group of calm, wide awake kids who love to play baseball. This scribe was particularly impressed by the showing of the Valley first baseman, Harry Kepping, and shortstop Mike Melchick. Johnny Carson and Curt Boushell, third baseman and left fielder respectively for the Stroudsburg contingent looked good from a defensive angle.

Jimmy Dunn, 11-year-old hurler who allowed only two hits by the home team, was another stand-out star who was in complete control of the contest after the first inning. Henry Dunn, Jimmy's father, was looking after the Valley interests at the score's table and was probably the most nervous person in the entire Stroudsburg Little League park. Jimmy had a record of five wins and one loss during the course of the regular season and the lone setback reportedly came in a relief role. The catch by Boushell in left field on the very first batter of the game was probably the fielding gem of the contest.

The Valley club had its protective helmets right inside the caps and the entire club used two caps while batting. The Stroudsburg helmets were worn on the outside. Major Varney, the umpire behind the plate in Wednesday's playoff contest, is stationed at the Signal Corps Depot in Tobyhanna. The protest that Stroudsburg lodged during the contest will probably fail to bring results, as it was decided, so this scribe has been informed, at a pre-tournament meeting that all protests must be settled right on the field.

Although the Little League playoff fever has been raging in Monroe County for the past couple of weeks, this writer discovered yesterday that everyone doesn't like the game for youngsters between the ages of eight and 12 years.

Indians Gain Sixth Straight Verdict Over Yankees, 10-2

Cleveland, CP—While Indian bats were blasting out 14 hits and three home runs, Early Wynn held the New York Yankees to six hits yesterday to give Cleveland a sweep of the three-game series, 10-2, the Tribe's sixth straight victory over New York.

Eden Leading Hitters In Blue Mountain

Charlie Eden, fleetfooted first baseman of Johnsonville, is leading the Blue Mountain Baseball League batting race at the end of the second month of play. Eden, who played in all 17 games Johnsonville had played up to July 10, is hitting a lousy .391 with 18 hits in 46 at bat. He is receiving sharp competition from Frank Sharp of Portland who is batting .378 with 17 hits while going to bat 45 times in 15 games.

Leader

The leading hitters are as follows:

| Player                | Team | AB | R  | H   | Per |
|-----------------------|------|----|----|-----|-----|
| Eden, Johnsonville    | 17   | 46 | 18 | 391 |     |
| Sharp, Portland       | 15   | 45 | 17 | 378 |     |
| Len, Roseto           | 14   | 48 | 18 | 375 |     |
| Pitchard, Roseto      | 14   | 47 | 17 | 362 |     |
| Flegler, Tatamy       | 16   | 46 | 16 | 348 |     |
| Ott, Portland         | 15   | 52 | 18 | 346 |     |
| A. Kise, Johnsonville | 12   | 35 | 12 | 343 |     |

In the extra base department you have Bill Williams of Tatamy leading the pack with five two-baggers followed closely by Randall "Buck" Ott of Portland with four. Len Castellucci and J. D'Imperio, both of Roseto, are tied for three base hit honors with three.

In the home run department there are six men tied with two each: Bob Melman and Bill Shires of Pocono A. C.; Williams and Jerry Magnuson of Tatamy; Carl Bethman of Martins Creek and Pete Polisky of Johnsonville.

John Vinyah and "Doc" Schiavone of the league leading Roseto team are leading in the pitching department each with six wins and one loss. They are closely followed by Bobby Weiss of Martins Creek who has a five and one record.

Merry Hill Lodge Wins
Cresco — Merry Hill Lodge won over a softball team from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College yesterday, 10-8 here on the winning clubs home grounds. It was the second straight loss for the ESSTC club to Merry Hill after the college club had run up a string of 41 straight wins.

Crimson Hose Top Chisox Behind Brown

Chicago, CP—The Chicago White Sox, handcuffed by "Skinny" Brown's four-hitter, yesterday blew a chance to gain on the faltering New York Yankees when they dropped a 4-3 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

Brown, a former White Soxer, was touched for two runs on no hits in the second inning, but then buckled down to hold the Pale Hose hitless from the fourth until Jim Rivera's ninth-inning homer.

The defeat was draped on the White Sox pitching enigma.

Long Time
It was the 11th loss against five victories for Rogovin, who last won July 1 and last finished a game after June 17.

Shortstop Milt Bolling of Boston suffered a severe ligament tear in his left ankle in the fifth inning sliding into second base. He was taken to Merv Hospital where it was reported he would be sidelined the rest of the current Red Sox road trip.

New Location Sought By Day Care School

Day Care School, formerly located in the basement of East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, is now looking for a new home.

Bennett Strait, special education supervisor for this area, said this week the school will not be able to resume operations at the East Stroudsburg church this coming Fall.

The school is designed specially to meet the special education needs of handicapped children throughout Monroe County.

No definite location for the school has been confirmed, Strait said. The move from the Presbyterian Church was made necessary, Strait said, by the church's desire to use the space for its own purposes.
